DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-19, drawn to a method of controlling oral pathogens.

Group II, claim(s) 20 and 21, drawn to a method of treating a mouth, tooth or gum disease.

Group III, claim(s) 22, drawn to a method of controlling human pathogens.

Group IV, claim(s) 23, drawn to a method of treating a disease or a condition caused by human pathogens.

Group V, claim(s) 24-26, drawn to a composition comprised of an antimicrobial or antibiotic.

Group VI, claim(s) 27-29, drawn to an article of manufacture comprised of antimicrobial or antibiotic and a berberine and containers.

The inventions listed as Groups I, II, III, IV, V and VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Group I is drawn to a method of controlling oral pathogens, whereas Group II is drawn to a method of treating a mouth, tooth or gum disease, Group III is drawn to a method of controlling human pathogens, Group IV is drawn to a method of treating a disease or condition caused by human pathogens. The methods each have the active step of administration of a therapeutically effective amount of a composition, but one of ordinary skill in the art would not consider what constitutes an therapeutically effective amount for each of the methods to be the same. And therefore, the Groups do not have a single special technical feature. Group V is drawn to a composition and Group VI an article of manufacture and do not require the active step of the methods of Groups I, II, III and IV; and therefore do not have a corresponding special technical feature.

Election of Species

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

(a) type of administration (b) antimicrobial or antibiotic, (c) disease or condition

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-29.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the method and physiological action of the composition is not expected to be the same depending on whether the components are administered together or administered separately and the sequence of administration; the antimicrobial or antibiotic agents have distinct structures and therefore their physiological actions are distinct; the diseases or conditions are distinct; the article of manufacture will be distinct depending on whether

If Applicant elects Group I, then a separate election of a single species of each of (a) type of administration and (b) antibacterial or antibiotic must also be made.

If Applicant elects Group II, then a separate election of a single species of each of (b) antimicrobial or antibiotic and (c) a disease or condition must also be made.

If Applicant elects either of Groups III, IV, V or VI then a separate election of a (b) antimicrobial or antibiotic must also be made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
